Awayday dressing

Whatever you're doing this Bank Holiday make sure you are prepared for every occasion says CLAIRE BRAYFORD

WIND and rain or blazing sunshine - no matter what the weather brings over the Bank Holiday weekend, make sure your wardrobe doesn't let you down.

Playful plimsolls look great with anything from a loose shirt dress to linen shorts and whether you hit the beach or head for a country walk they are more practical than flip-flops. Choose a lightweight cardigan you can tie around your waist or layer over T-shirts if the weather cools.

A chic leather cross-body bag makes more sense than carrying a heavy handbag.

If the sun does shine choose a sculpting one-piece rather than a bikini for the great British seaside.

Finally, add a few unexpected finishing touches, some fine jewellery to dress up your look and maybe a silk scarf or fun hat. A perfect look for a weekend filled with adventure.
